A CAPE COD WORKSHOP (Redoux)

Wednesday evening May 14 - Sunday morning, May 18, 2014

featuring

SHIV VERMA

Shiv Verma, Wrentham, MA. MNEC - Photographer, educator and technologist. He has been photographing since a teenager, but the advent of digital has evolved his photography to express his intense devotion to wildlife and nature. Since 2003 Shiv has been capturing images exclusively in the digital realm and has earned numerous awards and national and international recognition. "I think of photography as art – represented by the vision of the photographer. Photography gives me the ability to express and communicate ideas that cannot be expressed in words." He reviews photography related products, a digital photography educator, a speaker and competition judge. He belongs to multiple photographic clubs and associations including Chairman of the Nature Division, PSA (Photographic Society of America); Director of the slide, instructional and essay sets, PSA; Director of the Nature Division Permanent Image Collection, Vice President of the Digital Circuit NECCC (New England Camera Club Council); member Greater Lynn Photographic Association, Stony Brook Camera Club and the Massachusetts Camera Naturalists.

May 14, 2014: Orientation 7:00 PM. Shooting commences following morning before dawn. Critiques, lectures and presentations during the day, afternoon and evening shooting. Wrap-up Sunday morning, May, 18th. Our last Cape workshop was a sell-out and a great success with several participants creating winning images. Well known to PSRI and other clubs, Shiv is an intense educator. Whether you are a beginner or an advanced photographer you will learn additional techniques as well as gaining considerable insight in the creative process.

WHO WILL BENEFIT FROM THIS OR ANY OTHER PSRI WORKSHOP?

EVERYONE AND ANYONE

- It matters not whether you are a point & shoot, a novice with your first DSLR or an experienced photographer of international renown. All will learn. Shiv's presentations and judging at PSRI and other clubs has given us an insight into the considerable depth and breath of his knowledge and skill level. At this and other workshops where participation is limited to 15 -20, all our questions will be answered regardless of complexity in terms we all can comprehend.
- Unsure, uncomfortable photographers, in 3 days, will gain considerable experience and confidence in their ability what otherwise could take 3 years to learn. These workshops are opportunities not to be missed.
- We will be with fellow photographers we know, will know better, can relate to, are comfortable with, more likely to help each other during the workshop and who we will be in contact with after the workshop.
- The cost is always less than any other similar workshop where you will not know anyone.
- Workshop will run the gamut from landscape, nature, to macro photography and everything in between.
