

South Western Florida Photography Workshop

Little Estero, Sanibel, Venice, Marco Island

March 4 - 10, 2012

Florida is famous for bird photography, and the South West has some of the best bird photography opportunities in the state. Ding Darling National Wildlife Refuge on Sanibel Island, Little Estero Lagoon and the Venice Rookery are some of the finest locations and provide us plenty of great opportunities to capture great wildlife images.

Our days will be based on a very flexible schedule allowing us to respond to the opportunities based on wildlife, weather, and light conditions, so you can have the best experience each day. We start each day early so as to capture images in the best light. We will grab a coffee and quick breakfast en-route. We photograph throughout the morning, breaking at midday for lunch and open discussion sessions. After lunch we head out for more photography, concluding near sunset, or after, based on location. We will then return to the hotel. Dinner is at a location of your choosing. We will then meet to do image downloads and have a feedback session. Instruction sessions will be included as will a prep session for the next day.

The workshop will begin with a classroom session devoted to teaching exposure theory, composition and field techniques on how to photograph birds.

You will gain a better understanding of both the technical side of wildlife photography, and most importantly the subject.

In the field you will be provided instruction based upon your needs. We will cover:

- Light
- Light Quality and Quantity
- Temperature
- Direction, side and backlighting
- Exposure
- Metering for the best exposure

How to obtain tack sharp images:

- Auto Focus Modes
- Manual Focus Mode
- Flight shot Techniques – hand held and using a tripod with an appropriate lens mount
- Panning technique

You will also learn how to work your subject:

- Perspective
- Subject isolation

ITINERARY

Day 1

Arrival and reception. We will meet at the Hampton Inn at 6:30pm, to socialize, get to know each other and go over our workshop schedule. We will also have a short instructional session.

Day 2

We will venture out into the Estero Beach and Lagoon at low tides to photograph Egrets, Herons, Reddish Egret and other shore birds. A white morph of the reddish egret frequents the area and if we are lucky we may see and photograph it. Brown pelicans and various song birds are also abundant here. Opportunities for intimate landscapes and for macro photography are your choice.

After brunch/lunch we will visit the fishing pier in Sanibel Island to photograph diving pelicans and terns. Hopefully we may also capture images of the Northern Parula and an Osprey or two on the nest. Opportunity to photograph a good sunset and seascapes will be explored.

Day 3

We will drive to Sanibel Island – to the Ding Darling NWR to photograph Roseate Spoonbills, Reddish Egrets dancing, and a slew of other avians. If one is lucky frigate birds, osprey and raccoons are also a possibility.

We will have lunch in Captiva and photograph other locations in the area or return to Ding Darling. We will photograph the sunset at Ding Darling before returning to the Hotel. Dinner will be followed by a review and instruction session.

Day 4

We will drive to the Venice Rookery where we will photograph various herons and egrets in breeding plumage, building nests and a great deal of interaction. Coots, moorhens, red bellied woodpeckers and verios can be photographed along with other avian species.

After lunch we will explore the Venice pier to photograph pelicans, terns, etc. Those who wish to rest or get some shopping done may do so. We will meet again at the rookery for some evening shots before going for dinner. Weather permitting we will return to the rookery to do night photography in the light of the full moon.

Day 5

We will do one more trip to Sanibel /Captiva and a private island for some incredible photo opportunities.

Day 6

We will drive to Marco Island for more avian photography. After lunch we will drive to Cape Coral to photograph Burrowing Owls. We will return to the hotel for dinner followed by a review and a final instructional session.

Day 7

For those who have later flights you will have another opportunity to photograph in the lagoon and beaches of Little Estero.
